My dear Mrs. Lyons:

In case you might "count noses" from the admission cards turned in, Mrs. Price advised me to explain something I did which might confuse you.

One of our National Woman's Party Board members had failed to receive a card for the tea and feeling that you would wish us to adjust the matter "on the spot", I wrote on my card my own name plus "and guest"

My colleague however, did not go in to the tea. For this reason my card, for the record (if of any value
to you), is in error.

My compliments to you on the perfect arrangements.
Yesterday was a memorable experience which I treasure.

Sincerely yours
Lillian A. Butler
